

INTRODUCTION

EDWARD G. YOUNG III

Our speaker today focuses on one simple idea – that everything can change in a single moment.

Edward G. Young III is a former Division I athlete whose life took many unexpected turns early on – experiences that now shape the message he shares today.

Today, he works with students across the country, challenging them to think differently about the pressure to belong and the responsibility to lead when it matters most.

Please join me in welcoming Edward G. Young III.

Updated 4.7.2026