

I, _____, take responsibility and accept the challenge to reject passivity, lead courageously, and initiate respect. Respect is putting others' needs above my own and I declare that my life is no longer just about myself but about others.

I commit to build a culture of respect at my university by respecting myself, my family, my friends, my professors, my campus and women.

Signature _____ Date _____

CAMPUSPEAK would like to thank, character coach Brian Smith, for providing this resource to National Masculinity Week. Brian has been using this Manhood Pledge as part of the Respect Movement at Arizona State University since August 2013.