

INTRODUCTION

DAVID STOLLMAN

Feel free to leave your phones on for audience participation, but please take a moment and turn the ringer off. Thank you.

My name is _____ (your name). I am (leadership position or organization), and it's my pleasure to welcome you. This program is sponsored by (list organizations).

Our speaker today is David Stollman.

David has been called many things – blunt, honest and funny are his favorites. He is an educator, a trainer, a keynote speaker and an entrepreneur. David is passionate, fiercely loyal and irrationally biased toward the things he loves. Philadelphia is the greatest city in the world. The University of Maryland is the most beautiful campus of all 600 he's visited. And, the Phillies WILL win the World Series... someday.

David believes in the inherent dignity of all people, except for those that think Whataburger is better than In-n-Out Burger. (Those people need professional help.) David believes in the power of personal stories, and that leaders have the ability to change the world.

Over the last 20 years, he has won lots of awards from all sorts of cool organizations for his work with college students and the advancement of the college fraternal communities. David has spoken in Canada, and 49 of the 50 states – and that will sound MUCH cooler once the University of Alaska gets it together!

Most importantly, he is a husband, and father of the three most adorable children in the world.

Please welcome.... David Stollman.
